SUEDEN DEATH OF R. STEEVES

MOST DISASTROUS ACCIDENT COSTS LIFE OF PROMINENT MAN.

HUNTING ACCIDENT

Went Shooting With Friends Near Stavelley-In Canoe Boat on Lake When Last Seen—It was Found Tipped Over But No Signs of Occupants—Body Not Recovered—Mrs. Steeves Prostrated—Had Been Warned of Violent Wind—One of Most Prominent Citizens of The Pass.

The people, not only of Frank but of the whole of The Pass were utterly shocked and pained Tuesday when a message from Stavelley brought the unwelcome news that Ruben Steeves, proprietor of the Imperial Hotel here and a member of the Frank village council had met a violent death near that place while duck hunting. It may never be known just how the accident happened, which cost this district one of its most prominent citizens as no one saw it and unless the finding of the body reveals the truth there is no chance of the exact circumstances being learned. What is known is that he went out on a lake in a canoe boat and when last seen, was paddling about the lake. When missed and search parties went to look for him, the boat was found bottom up in the water with his hat and paddle near by. Presumably he was drowned though whether through having accidentally shot himself which some think probable or from merely tipping over and being unable to get ashore is not yet known. The body is being searched for but as yet no tidings of its recovery have come.

Mr. Steeves in company with A. V. Lang, T. B. Martin and E. M. Burnett went to Stavelley on Sunday evening's train to take advantage of the opening of the duck season. At Stavelley they were joined by Thomas Guy, proprietor of the Stavelley hotel, Dr. Thompson and Bert Pearson, foreman of the Lane ranch on Willow Creek. The party drove out to the ranch of Benjamin Johnson about ten miles northwest of Stavelley where they arranged to stay during the hunt. They had dinner and started early in the afternoon for a shoot of lakes about a mile distant from the ranch, taking Rancher Johnson along for driver.

Arriving at the lakes, the party shot for a short time until the birds ceased to fly and settled in the middle of the largest of the lakes, a body of water about half a mile wide. The Frank party had taken along a canoe boat which at this time it was decided to bring into requisition to keep the birds moving. The boat was set up and Mr. Steeves went alone to drive the birds while the others skirted the shore to shoot. Shortly afterward a small canoe came up which made the lake very rough and Mr. Steeves came ashore but the squall soon passed and the weather became very calm and remained so the rest of the day. After some discussion of a proposal by Mr. Steeves to move to another lake five miles distant, from which, he was dissuaded, it was decided to finish the day on the lake the party was then shot and Mr. Steeves prepared to again embark. He started out dressed only in his drawers, a pair of rubbers for his feet, and a shooting jacket on, evidently wishing to be prepared for a swim in the event an emergency should arise. The others of the party disposed themselves about the shores of the various lakes and the necks of land connecting them, wherever they judged they might best catch the birds in flight.

The afternoon wore on and Mr. Steeves remained on the water, being seen occasionally by different members of the party. T. M. Burnett was the last to see him. He had shot a bird and waded out in the lake to get it. Thinking his position was favorable, he remained standing in the water for some time and fired several shots but after a time the shooting became poor and he decided to change base. On going ashore he was joined shortly afterward by Mr. Martin and others and it was decided to quit for the day. Mr. Steeves was still on the water when Mr. Burnett left it and at that time was about in the middle of the lake. He was not however, in sight when the wagon gathered up the members of the party until all but Messrs Lang and Steeves were aboard. As they were not to be seen it was concluded they had gone to the ranch and thither the others made their way. There they found Mr. Lang but not Mr. Steeves and as Mr. Lang had had supper, he took a man and the canoe and went back for Mr. Steeves and after searching until dark they at length concluded he had gone home and they returned.

Much uneasiness was felt when it was found he had not reached the ranch but as it was thought likely he had lost his way and gone to another ranch and the night was so dark nothing could be done no attempt at further search was made. In the morning of Tuesday the whole party went out to search and after a time came across Mr. Steeves's hat and the paddle floating in the water near shore. Then it was known that something had befallen Mr. Steeves and the search became earnest.

A boat five miles away was sent for with a view to recovering the canoe one but in the meantime the wind arose and drove the latter ashore. It was hoped its recovery would reveal something but it did not. The lake continued so rough throughout the day that no progress could be made.

The members of the party finally gave up their companion for lost about noon Tuesday and the sorrowful news was wired to Frank and to Thomas Madden, Mr. Steeves's brother-in-law at Lundbrook. Knowing Mr. Steeves's health had been most delicate since the death of her daughter a year ago, Mr. Madden realized that the news must be broken by someone capable of softening the awful blow and giving comfort if the result were not to be most serious if not fatal. He therefore telephoned the Rev. T. M. Murray of Coleman who hurried to Frank. It was Mr. Murray's hard duty to inform Mrs. Steeves of her loss which he did with rare tact but as feared, the blow was a terrible one and it became necessary to summon Dr. Malcolmson. For some hours she was very low but at length commenced to rally and it is now thought she will recover.

The prevailing theory as to the manner in which Mr. Steeves met death is that he must have shot himself accidentally either fatally or that he so injured himself and fell into the water and drowned. This theory is held for the reason that he was a strong swimmer, was prepared for a swim and was not more than a quarter of a mile from shore when seen. Therefore, unless the weeds in the water were so thick as to greatly impede a swimmer and from that cause he became exhausted and drowned, it is not easily conceivable how the accident could have happened other than through an accidental shooting. That he could have been shot by another of the party is said to have been impossible as none was within several gun shots distance of him.

Messrs Lang and Martin returned to Frank yesterday morning, leaving Mr. Burnett in charge of the search. A boat had been procured and grappling irons were at hand, with which to drag the lake and a supply of dynamite was secured to endeavor to raise the body by blasting. Thomas Madden left for Stavelley Tuesday evening and will assume charge of the search, relieving Mr. Burnett.

Ruben Steeves was one of the best known residents of The Pass. He was a pioneer in the district, having come to Blairmore as agent for the C. P. R. in 1901 when there was no Frank. In the fall of that year he left the service of the C. P. R. and built the Imperial hotel in Frank which was opened about the holidays and which he has since conducted. He established a brick making business in Frank the year after the strike

COLEMAN PAPER SOLD TO COMPANY OF LOCAL PEOPLE.

TO SUPPORT HERRON

New Orleans The South Hills Job Printing and News Company—Stockholders all Prominent Members of Conservative Party—Attorney Represents French and H. E. Lyon, Conservative War Horse of The Pass Will Manage the Business.

The Coleman Miner changed hands last week, passing from the ownership of Y. S. Shepard of Lethbridge to a stock company organized for the purpose of taking it over. The company is known as The South Hills Job Printing and News Co. Ltd. The officers are: A. C. Kemmis, Plumber Creek, president; James Druggall, Blairmore, secretary and treasurer; and H. E. Lyon, Blairmore, managing director. Other prominent conservatives are among the stockholders. Under the new management the paper will be avowedly independent in politics but it may be said in advance that it will support John Heron for re-election and as well, all other candidates for office who run as conservatives. That much may be taken for granted from the fact that all the owners are conservatives and most of them of the ultra partisan kind who, of course, have not embarked in the newspaper business in this district for the profit they expect to realize from the venture.

which he made a great success. Within the two ventures he grew from a man of very moderate means to one of great wealth. Aside from the business mentioned he was one of the largest owners in the Frank Wine & Spirit company, the wholesale liquor concern of Frank which has just completed the first brick business block in Frank, and was owner of the Windsor hotel at Lundbrook which he built in 1905. At the last village election Mr. Steeves was elected a member of the first village council of Frank. He has always been a pushing, public spirited citizen and his loss will be strongly felt in the community.

The deepest sympathy of the entire community goes out to Mrs. Steeves who has had more misfortune to bear up under than is ordinarily the lot of one woman. About ten months ago she lost her daughter Eva. Being of that temperamental which suffers most acutely from bereavement, she failed in health, till fears for her were entertained. She was improving rapidly however, when a few weeks ago she received another shock by having her only son, Gordon suffer a broken arm. In her condition the misfortune was much more than ordinary misfortune. Now comes the loss of the husband under such circumstances as to render the blow doubly severe. Fortunately two sisters, Mrs. McLean of Vancouver and Mrs. Madden of Lundbrook are with her.

In connection with Mr. Steeves' violent end, D. C. Drain of Blairmore relates a peculiar story. Mr. Drain states that last year, while in Calgary with Mr. Steeves attending a meeting of the licensed victuallers, a palmer was holding forth in the city and in a spirit of fun they laid their hands read. The palmer told Mr. Steeves he would "die with a tooth on it", meaning of course that he would meet a violent death. Mr. Steeves of course simply laughed at the thidien and declared he would go out and buy shoes.

Mr. Steeves was a member of the Masonic order and it is likely that the funeral when held will be under the auspices of Sentinel Lodge of Frank but no arrangements can be made until the body is found or until it is demonstrated that there is no hope of recovering it.

The work of repairing the Miller Ferry 1st arch which was much damaged by the spring flood, has been under way this week and is about completed.

South African Veterans' Scrip Bill.

The value of the bounty scrip granted to South African veterans by a statute passed at the last session of Parliament is being considerably discussed.

Those entitled are men whose home was in Canada but who served in the British forces in South Africa during some part of the war, and included as well are those of the last contingent enlisted in Canada, but who reached South Africa after peace was proclaimed, and also the enlisted female nurses.

The right of the volunteer must be established by a certificate received from the Militia department before any grant of land or scrip can be made by the Interior department. And no transfer of any right of a volunteer before such a certificate has been granted by the Militia department has any standing.

Once the certificate from the Militia department has been received by the veteran the Interior department is prepared to issue to him either land scrip for 320 acres of land, or money scrip to the amount of $100, as he may choose. The money scrip is worth its face value to the holder in payment for domain lands. If the holder does not desire to use it for this purpose those who do are always ready to purchase at a small discount. At the present time the discount on similar money scrip issued to north-west half breed is about 10 per cent.

The veteran's right is therefore worth at least $140 to $150 in cash, without any trouble to him beyond his establishing it with the militia department.

If the veteran should elect to take land scrip, he becomes entitled to select 320 acres of land in adjoining quarter sections anywhere on surveyed lands in the three prairie provinces, and on completing the ordinary homestead duties—residence for six months in each year for three years, erection of a habitable house and cultivation of 30 acres of land—he becomes entitled to a free patent. The practical effect of this provision is that the veteran who becomes a western settler secures 160 acres of land free of any charge or duty. But he does not get it until he has earned it, patent for 160 acres as a homestead.

In order that the veteran who is not in a position to become a homesteader may get all possible value out of his land scrip, he is permitted to assign it to a substitute, who by the assignment acquires all the rights of the veteran. This provision practically places the land, but who is provided not go on the land, but who is provided in the management of his business affairs, in the position of having the right to 160 acres of land to sell to any homesteader, present or prospective, who may be able and willing to buy it.

As there is no government land for sale outside the pre-emption area, the veteran stands a fair chance to sell 160 acres of the 320 acre scrip at the price of adjoining railway lands, which may be from $3 to $10 an acre. Even in the pre-emption area where 100 acres of adjoining government land is sold to homesteaders on settlement conditions at $3 an acre, the veteran's scrip is worth more than $3 an acre for 160 acres, for the government requires three year's residence in addition to the price and the exhaustion of the homesteader's right in the case of a pre-emption, while the veteran's 160 acres is free of residence and settlement duties and of exhaustion of right, as well as of price.

It is unfortunate that, whether by accident or design, there seems to be a combined effort in the opposition press to depreciate the value of the veteran's grant, with the result, no doubt, that many men will part with their rights without fair value. The statistic does what it can to prevent this by providing that no transfer of right before the issue of the certificate by the militia department shall be valid.

As matters stand at present the minimum value of the bounty if taken in money scrip should be $140 in cash, and if taken in land scrip should be not less than $200 to $1000 for purposes of sale, while for purposes of actual settlement it may easily be worth $1000 to $3000 as it enables the veteran to acquire 320 acres of land without interfering with his right to acquire in addition a homestead of 160 acres as an ordinary settler anywhere in the prairie west, or a homestead and pre-emption of 320 acres in the pre-emption area.

The provisions of the new Oliver land bill relative to the homesteading of odd numbered sections, comes in to effect the first of next month. In our estimation—and there are already indications that it is a correct judgement—this piece of legislation is destined to become one of the greatest blessings that has ever come to the prairie provinces. News dispatches state that already large numbers of intended settlers are going over the country picking out the pieces of land they want and when the day for filing comes thousands of new entries will be made, each one of which will mean a new settler. Frank Oliver's wisdom and fidelity to the west are reflected in this admirable enactment. In another column will be found an advertisement from the department giving directions relative to the methods of filing for the guidance of those intending to avail themselves of the benefits of the new act.

FOR HARVEST HELP

The department of agriculture is endeavoring to secure a share of the harvest help coming to the west this season. Arrangements have been made with the railway authorities to ticket a sufficient number of harvest hands to Alberta points to insure a safe harvesting of the crop. The department has sent a representative to the Winnipeg in order to see that the province gets its fair quota of men and also to prevent a larger number going to any one point than is necessary to meet the demand. As these men will be only ticketed in the season, farmers requiring help should leave their name and location with their nearest railway agent or arrange with friends in town to secure and send them the help they need.

P. G. Adams of Spokane returned Monday from the South Fork where he has a crew of men prospecting on the Carlton Hill coal property. ### NOTICE

Odd Numbered Sections

As already publicly announced, odd numbered sections remaining vacant and undisposed of will become available for homestead entry on the coming into force of the dominion lands act on the 1st of September next.

As the records of only the even numbered sections have hitherto been kept in the books of the various land agencies in the western provinces and the time having been very limited since the passing of the act within which to transfer the records of all odd numbered sections from the hand office at Ottawa to the local offices, it is possible that the transfer of records in some cases may not have been absolutely completed by the 1st of September. In any case where the record of any quarter section has not been transferred, application will be accepted but will have to be forwarded to head office to be dealt with.

As it has been found impossible as yet to furnish sub-agencies with copies of the records of odd numbered sections and in view of the large probable demand for entries, all applicants for entry upon odd numbered sections are strongly advised to make their applications in person at the office of the dominion lands agent and not through a sub-land agent. Applications for even numbered sections may be dealt with through the sub land agent as before if desired.

J. W. Greenway,
Commissioner of Dominion Lands.

Mrs. Anna Vitase, Neapolis, Alta., writes: "Received the Oxidonor and find it a source of great relief, although I have had it hardly a month. The first night I slept and rested better than for weeks and my bowels have moved regularly every morning while I used the Oxidonor during the night."

My general health is greatly improved. For years I have been compelled to take a physic every day and been subject to severe headaches and nervousness, but find them all disappearing and how thankful I am. My children say I look ten years younger, and I was just sixty-nine years old the 14th of May."
